

The Federal Communications Commission

Dear The Federal Communications Commission,

We do not want to pay more for our telephone service! That is all we would need. I urge you to reject a flat fee proposal that would change how contributions are made to the Universal Service Fund. I am concerned that this proposal could make my current service unaffordable. I am disabled and use my wireless phone to summon assistance as I can not even change my own tire if it goes flat! Being poor means I can barely keep my needed services now! Someday you may be in my shoes.

Under the flat fee proposal you are considering, people who make few long distance calls would pay the same as people or businesses that make many calls. In other words, low-volume and primarily residential customers would bear the same universal service fund burden as a high-volume residential or business customers. This is unfair! Do you not consider the poor?

I use my wireless phone for safety, security and convenience. I don't want to lose these benefits so that big businesses can pay less than their fair share. I urge you to reject the proposal to move the USF collection system to a flat-fee.

Keep the USF Fair!

Sincerely,

John Jameson
